The Honorable William P. Clements
Governor of Texas
Capitol Station
Austin, Texas 78711

Dear Governor Clements:

In accordance with TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 6061, (Vernon 1980), we are transmitting the Annual Report of the Gas Utilities Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas for Fiscal 1980.

The Gas Utilities Division operated on a budget of $1,497,862.91 in 1980. At the end of the fiscal year there were 63 employees in the Gas Utilities Division Staff.

The Auditing Section performed 133 audits during the year. $20,436,421.78 was collected in gross receipts taxes during the same year.

The Safety and Engineering Section conducted 502 safety evaluations during the year. There were 6 on-site accident investigations made with over 20 special investigations provided for Texas cities.

The Reports and Statistics Section produced various studies and reports supporting Commission programs. They responded to approximately 1300 complaints and inquiries from the general public.

The legal staff determined important issues in specific cases filed for decision with the Commission. Careful economic analysis and research was provided from within this group of applications filed for rate increases. During Fiscal 1980, 605 applications were filed with more than 80% pertaining to rate increases. In rate matters appealed to the Commission, utilities requested $7,381,883 in gross revenue increases, but the Commission granted $1,614,586 or 21.87% of that requested.

An Equal Opportunity Employer

In addition to certain reports required by law for Fiscal 1980, 1979 statistical data accumulated from the many gas utilities in Texas is included.

Respectfully submitted,

John H. Poerner, Chairman

James E. (Jim) Nugent, Commissioner

Mack Wallace, Commissioner

Jeffry R. Hill, Acting Director

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF TEXAS
GAS UTILITIES DIVISION

The Gas Utilities Division of the Railroad Commission operates pursuant to TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. arts. 6050 through 6066, known as the "Cox Act," promulgated by the 36th Legislature in 1920; TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 1446c, §§ 1-91 (Vernon 1980) known as the "Public Utility Regulatory Act," promulgated by the 64th Legislature in 1975 and TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 6053-1 (Vernon Supp. 1980) known as the "Pipeline Safety Act," promulgated by the 61st Legislature in 1969. Through these statutes, the Texas Legislature has charged the Railroad Commission with the responsibility for the regulation of rates for the transmission and distribution of natural gas, allocation of natural gas, and promulgation of safety standards for gas pipeline utility companies within the Commission's jurisdiction. Original jurisdiction over rates and conditions of service applicable to natural gas sales within municipalities rests in the municipalities while de novo appellate review of municipal action rests in the Commission.

The staff was reduced by 7 employees during Fiscal 1980. The Division's 63 employees are organized into 5 activities, described in the following paragraphs.

Auditing - collects the gross receipts tax established by statute at 1/4 of 1% of a utility's gross revenues. This section is also charged with auditing the 300 annual reports filed by gas utilities, the filings required by Commission orders such as the cost of gas and the amount of lost and unaccounted-for gas, and the records and accounts of gas utilities to verify use of a uniform system of accounts. The staff goes into the field to examine the books in the company offices. Auditing conducted 133 audits in Fiscal Year 1980 and collected $20,436,421.78 in gross receipts taxes. The activity has personnel at 4 Texas cities in addition to Austin.

Safety and Engineering - enforces the minimum safety standards adopted by the Commission for the safe transportation and delivery of natural gas by intrastate pipelines. The primary goal of the safety staff is to preserve human life and, secondarily, to prevent the destruction of property and natural resources. The safety staff performed 502 safety evaluations during the Fiscal Year in addition to 6 on-site accident investigations. Special assistance was provided to over 20 Texas cities in an on-going program to assist old and impaired distribution systems in correcting hazardous conditions. This activity has personnel at 6 Texas cities in addition to Austin.

Reports and Statistics - accumulates and compiles statistics gathered from the gas utilities subject to Railroad Commission regulation and produces studies and reports to clarify and explain Commission programs. This section also responded to over 1300 consumer inquiries and complaints concerning natural gas matters. Reports and Statistics also keeps a computer record of the current status and resolution of all dockets filed. This section maintains approximately 2,000 current tariffs required to be on file with the Commission, and monitors compliance in their construction and application.

Hearings and Legal Analysis - holds hearings to gather evidence concerning gas utility applications, analyzes and weighs the evidence, and finally, recommends to the Commission the most reasonable disposition of each application. It is also involved in the development of quality of service rules for those areas under the Commission's original jurisdiction. The Gas Utilities Division Hearings Examiners conducted 61 hearings in Fiscal 1980. Rate cases appealed to the Commission, requested additional gross revenue of $7,381,883. The Commission only granted $1,614,586.00 or 21.87% of that requested. This activity also assists the other activities by providing legal analysis of safety and auditing programs.

Program Management - plans, organizes, coordinates, and controls the operation of all 4 functional activities. This function ensures thorough communication within the Division and with other parts of the Commission. Fiscal matters are also the responsibility of Program Management. This activity is responsible for all rulemaking proceedings and the preparation and circulation of all statutorily required notices.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

During 1979 one thousand thirty-four Texas towns and cities, as well as their environs and many rural areas, received natural gas service from 57 investor-owned and 83 municipal distribution systems. There were about 2.89 million residential customers, including 368,511 served by municipal operations not under rate-making jurisdiction of this Commission. The eight largest distribution systems, six private and two municipal, provided 95 percent of the domestic gas service in the state. There were approximately 259,198 small commercial and industrial customers, 1,569 large commercial and industrial customers and 7,774 customers reported as other types of customers.

Statewide, average residential consumption for 1979 was 86.2 Mcf per customer, compared to 87.1 Mcf for 1978. Total annual degree day deficiency for 1979, as recorded by the National Weather Service, reflects that heating seasons within the year were 18.7 percent colder then normal. 1979 was 4.9 percent warmer than 1978 while the average residential customer consumed .9 percent less gas during 1979.

Residential customers of companies under the jurisdiction of this Commission paid an average of $2.96 per Mcf for natural gas consumed in 1979, compared with $2.68 per Mcf the year before or 10.5 percent more.

For the year 1979 small commercial and industrial customers of private distribution companies paid an average of $2.69 per Mcf, as against $2.44 in 1978. Large commercial and industrial customers paid an average of $2.22 in 1979 and $2.11 in 1978.

Total natural gas sales in Texas to all customer classes by reporting distribution companies were 768 billion cubic feet in 1979, an increase of less than 1% from the previous year.

Direct industrial sales by pipelines in 1979 were 2.04 trillion cubic feet, a decrease of 17.7 percent over the previous year. Pipeline revenue from industrial sales averaged $1.77 per Mcf in 1979, up from $1.58 for 1978.

Privately owned distribution systems were unable to account for 18.36 million Mcf of gas purchased in 1979 for resale, or 2.57 percent. Average value of this unaccounted for gas was $2.02 per Mcf. Municipal systems had 2.66 million Mcf, or 4.01 percent of all gas purchased, unaccounted for in 1979, as compared to 4.06 percent in 1978. The average value of this gas was $2.17 per Mcf.

Miles of pipeline in operation in Texas totaled 76,718 at the end of 1979 of which over 78 percent is operated by twenty companies.

Fixed investment for distribution facilities in Texas was $907,182,338 at the end of 1979. Fixed investment for transmission facilities in Texas was $2,189,744,317. Total Texas plant in service was $4,019,837,103.

Gross receipts tax collections in 1979 by the Gas Utilities Division, one-fourth of one percent on gross income from business within the state, amounted to $16,949,300.

Annual reports for 1979 were filed with the Gas Utilities Division by 291 companies.

*Degree days measure the deviation from normal temperature by accumulating the difference between 65°F and the daily mean temperature. A mean temperature of 60° for one day would be a five degree day deficiency. A greater degree day deficiency then normal indicates colder weather. Less degree day deficiency than normal indicates warmer weather. These figures are on a calendar year basis. Colder periods in each heating season may fall either before or after year end.
